Vivian was called to hospice work after seeing her father pass away peacefully at home with his family by his side. She decided she no longer wanted to work in a hospital environment because hospice care provided the most humane and peaceful way to die.

Prior to her personal hospice experience, Vivian worked as an RN on a Medical/Surgical floor at Kendall Regional Hospital in Miami. Vivian's hospice career began at Vitas Hospice in Miami where she worked six years.

A native of Miami, FL, Vivian moved to The Villages in 2009. She enjoys gardening, kayaking, dancing and making jewelry. Vivian has three grown children; Allison, Megan and David.
